I have received sketching reports from people in my building that rode out the storm. We have roof shingles everywhere but I'm not told the roof got breached. Storm surge did not float the dock boats into buildings and they seem to be intact. I'm not hearing anything major yet. The power is out and it has started to rain again as I write this. Don't know when power will be brought back up. All reports so far seem to indicate we dodged a bullet.

9:47am Call from Mike PP5

Car port damage 1, 2, 3, Some windows broken in PP5, Marina Survived, Palms trees down, Shingles on the lawn.

9:52am Call from resident in PP3

Alarms have been going off since yesterday, probably water in fire alarm smoke detectors. He has cut smoke detector wires in units where people are staying so they don't go crazy from the noise. No windows broken that he noticed. Some roof/shingle damage. There are no keys accessible for power room. Will call SWPM.

Fire department cutting trees on tamiami trail. Trees down on horsecreek drive. He had to drive across lawn to get in. Some Carport Damage, 300 building carport is almost totaled.

10:30am Ken left voice message with Sandy at Southwest Property Management, notified her that fire alarms going off.

10:45am Sandy had evacuated and is in Tennessee. No one can get in to her house area due to downed power lines.

She will return when able.

SWPM has limited access to properties due to Downed power lines. They will get to us when they are allowed.

Sandy will call Cintas to see if they can go out to shut off alarms, Police may let them through.

Sandy will call Doug Ship from our insurance to get us on the claim list for at least probable roof damage.

Car Ports and yard will be under Princeton Place Association Board (PPOA) & that insurance policy.

No idea when power will be back on.

Ken Bergstrom has a flight booked to go view property this Thursday-Sunday. (fortunately made reservations last Wednesday)
